MUCH DEFFER: IMPACT AND LONGEVITY OF WOMEN IN HIP HOP:

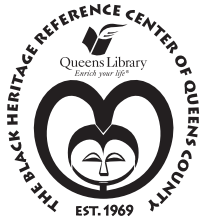

A Lecture and Performance with DuEwa Frazier

Join poet, author and educator, DuEwa Frazier as she discusses highlights in hip hop history and notable women hip hop artists who impacted her writing and performance craft. In this dynamic lecture-performance, DuEwa draws upon personal experience as an artist, literacy advocate, hip hop enthusiast and cultural organizer.

DuEwa Frazier has been called a "gifted and conscious performing poet" and "one of the illest wordsmiths breathing!" Originally from St. Louis, Missouri, DuEwa has been featured at slam venues, colleges, festivals, public schools, museums and other institutions nationwide including: Bowery Poetry Club and the famed Nuyorican Poet's Café (NYC), Howard University, Temple University and others. Frazier is the author of two highly reviewed volumes of poetry as well as the 2007 NAACP Image Award Nominated anthology, Check the Rhyme: An Anthology of Female Poets & Emcees. Her writing has been featured in various publications including Essence Magazine, Drumvoices Revue, Poetry Ink Anthology, as well as Allhiphop.com and others.
